

Reference

Mr. Aditya Ghosh, born on 4 December, 1991 in Kolkata (India), joined our company as a Web Designer on 20 August, 2018 and was employed with us until 30 April, 2020.

Since being founded in 2000, gamigo AG has risen rapidly from being a magazine for PC games to being one of the leading providers of free-to-play online and mobile games in Europe. The gamigo group manages over 100 million registered user accounts. Key to gamigo's success is the experience of many years at the strategic level among the Executive Board of all business sectors in the gaming market as well as the employees in all departments. The Hamburg-based company has around 300 permanent employees. The gamigo AG is also represented with offices in Berlin, Münster, Darmstadt (Germany), Chicago (USA) and Seoul (Korea).

In his area of activity, Mr. Ghosh duties and areas of responsibility included:

- Website Development with HTML5, CSS3, Javascript (jQuery)
- Application Development with Angular JS
- Content Management Setup & Development (Wordpress)
- Implementation of Newsletters
- Basic PHP Development on current projects
- Data Security Analysis for Legal Department

After just a short time, Mr. Ghosh proved himself to be totally dedicated and, as he was very competent in his area of expertise, he could be appointed to a wide range of tasks. In addition, he possesses above-average powers of perception, by means of which he solved even difficult problems in an exemplary manner. Even when under great pressure Mr. Ghosh could always cope well and acted calmly and goal-oriented.

He worked very thoroughly and quickly. Mr. Ghosh contributed his thoughts well when the work was being prepared and performed his tasks systematically and with great efficiency. Besides, he always showed himself to be adequately motivated and was prepared to work overtime when necessary. The quality of his work always met and far exceeded requirements.

Mr. Ghosh has performed good service to our company in his area of responsibility. We were always fully satisfied with his performance and success.

His manner was always impeccable. In his dealings with superiors and colleagues Mr. Ghosh knew how to create an atmosphere of trust and openness. His attitude towards our business partners was faultless too at any time. He represented our company well.

We have been forced to decide to terminate the employment contract today for operational reasons. We regret his leaving very much and would like to thank him for his active and productive work in the wide range of tasks, his consistently excellent performance and very pleasant collaboration at all times. We wish Mr. Ghosh all the best and every success in his future professional and private life.

We are pleased to provide him with a reference.
